About Key Speaker

Dr. A Anbarasu studied from Stanley Medical College – 1985 batch. He did his MD in Radio diagnosis, along with DNB (Radio diagnosis) and DMRE (Gold Medal) at LTM Medical College & Sion Hospital. He learned from names in Radiology, who are great teachers; inspired by them, he started his contribution to teaching even as second year registrar and then as lecturer in Sion Hospital – His teachers include Prof S Merchant, Prof Om Tavri, Prof Mukund Joshi, Prof Ravi Ramakanthan and Dr Bhavin Jankharia. After a brief stay at Hammersmith Hospital with Prof David Cosgrove, he took up higher Specialist Registrar work in Liverpool Mersey Region; he obtained the University of Liverpool's DMRD, while working under Prof R Whitehouse.

During the final FRCR examination in 1999, he won the prestigious Rohan Williams Gold Medal by the Royal College of Radiologists. He was also awarded the Cook travelling fellowship by RCR which was done at Massachusetts General Hospital & Harvard Medical School, Boston.

He held very important positions at University Hospitals Coventry & Warwickshire – as Consultant Radiologist, Royal College Clinical Tutor, Joint Clinical Director, MRI lead clinician. During this time, his contributions to teaching, management, research and paper publications was appreciated and awarded with Six Clinical excellence Awards by the NHS, UK. He has published 21 peer reviewed papers; 33 posters and invited speaker in more than 100 courses and conferences.
